

All Children and Youth in schools and learning spaces have a right to feel safe and protected

Schools and temporary learning spaces are places that can put children at risk of physical, emotional, and sexual abuse, done by organization staff, teachers, community members, and other children. Safe school can reduce the risks of education disruption and this provides space for children's learning and healthy development.

As a child, even during a humanitarian crisis, you have a right to feel safe and protected.

It is not OK if someone

Your parent or any other adult person engages you in child labor

To unwanted and inappropriate touching

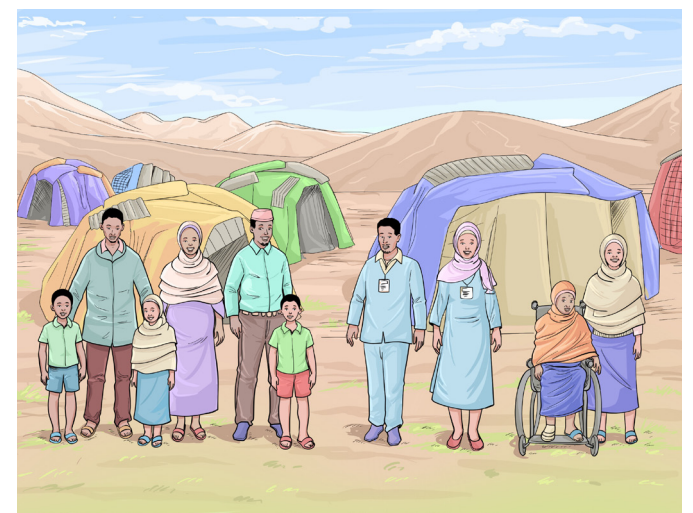

We respect your views and care about you

An army group recruits you to join the army group

Ask you before taking picture

Work safely with you